

Turn to Someone You Can Trust

“People helping people” is the fundamental philosophy on which credit unions were built. More consumers are discovering that credit unions have some important characteristics not always found at other financial institutions, such as personal service and customer advocacy.

A Forrester Research Inc. study “Winning the Changing Financial Consumer,” shows that consumers often are wary of doing business with large profit-driven financial organizations--they believe these companies only are interested in their own bottom lines. Members trust their credit unions, which are not-for-profit organizations. Members know the people at their credit union care about them and have the members’ best interest at heart.

When you become a member of Fairmont Federal Credit Union, you’ll always have a place where you belong. We offer a wide variety of programs and services designed to meet the unique needs of our members. Our customer-focused staff will be here to assist you face to face, and answer any questions you may have.

Whether it’s to open a new account, to ask about a loan, or for any of your financial needs, stop in and see us today. We are here for you.

Copyright 2004 Credit Union National Association Inc. Information subject to change without notice. For use with members of a single credit union. All other rights reserved.